

Generation C Cambodia - Charter's Values

To join "Generation C Cambodia" movement, I certify that I have read this charter of values and share all of its content.

I declare my adherence to the awakening of individual and collective consciousness, starting with the understanding and awareness that one has of oneself.

I am committed to fight against all of my forms of selfishness and excesses, while controlling my degrading affects, megalomaniac greed buried within me, and to focus on the collective good and the "living together".

I pledge to stay upright, taking a social role that demands from me mastery, serenity, humanity, smoothness, simplicity, modesty, mercy, the grandeur of soul, freedom, patience, loyalty, beneficence, gentleness, the warm welcome reserved for others.

I owe it to myself to distinguish myself from others, to shine in their midst, to have an ethic and an aesthetic taken as a model by my peers.

I owe myself to magnify my life and others, to make it a work of art, leaving my time on earth a mark of wisdom, compassion and altruism.

I adhere to the principle that our greatest wealth, citizens of the world, members of Generation C Cambodia, is first of all our human-to-human relationships, our solidarity, our resilience and innate compassion.

I pledge to speak true, without lies, kind and appropriate to others with regard to gender, beliefs, political views, origins, sexual orientation or social background.

I am committed to acting with empathy and fairness, avoiding any affront or injury to humans and animals.

I am committed to respecting man in his universality, in his cultural diversity, in his origin, in his belonging and in his skin color. I understand that we are all the same species, Homo sapiens, whose lives and future are currently unstable, so that our medium and long term future is quite uncertain. In this context, I declare myself a citizen of the world, sharing and belonging to the same planet.

I adhere to the principle of common naturalness which affirms that we are not "masters and owners of nature" but have a common destiny with it.

I declare my attachment and my adherence to the principles of respect for all the ecosystems equilibrium on which our mother earth is founded and on which our sustainability as an animal species depends. The search for my well-being must not interfere with the well-being of Mother-Earth.

I therefore undertake to actively protect and respect our common environment without distinction.

I adhere to and lead within Generation C Cambodia a reflection on the search and application of common values based on the philosophy of the art of living together, with a common vision of our society while accepting the differences and points of view, the art of cooperating with harmony and diversity, of living better together.

I am committed, taking into account the planetary challenges we face (finitude of natural resources, climatic issues, pandemic, social and economic disparities, the disappearance of the mass of living beings, etc...). to the world of tomorrow; to promote a plural universalism which allows different cultures, religions or philosophies to dialogue by opposing each other without tearing each other apart for the common good of Cambodian citizens.

I declare myself aware of the integration of the Kingdom of Cambodia and its role in the life of the world of tomorrow, in the part that we must play as a state sitting in the United Nations and in other international institutions, in the management of international affairs, in the promotion of a new form of international citizenship of which we are a part of.

I declare myself aware of both, the importance of my role and my decisive and necessary commitment in our world of tomorrow.
